

Robert Grega
1440 6th Ave
San Francisco CA 94122

Sep 6th 2018

Via ECFS
Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
445 12th Street, S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

Re: In the Matter of Petition of USTelecom for Forbearance Pursuant to 47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

For internet service in San Francisco, there are basically 2 major providers; AT&T or Comcast. I chose a smaller more personal service in Sonic. I receive a broadband signal that is as fast as I need, and basically free landline service along with that, as well as renowned customer service. The competition is needed to keep the big corporations in check, as well as offer various other plans that they are not willing to offer.

Users need to be provided a choice, not between two, but several providers, much like shopping for basics like groceries or clothing, autos, plane tickets, restaurants, the list goes on and on. Was looking forward to fiber at an affordable rate, but without competition, the sky's the limit on how much that is going to cost me and my family.

Robert Grega